

Make your voice heard when candidates call!

This will be a closely fought general election. Opinion polls suggest that a combination of different political parties may form the next government.

All political parties respond to issues raised consistently on the doorstep. We have heard, for instance, that political parties have noted a widespread raising of the need for more special needs assistants in the school system.

IFUT members can also have a real impact on future government higher education policy.

Ask candidates/canvassers knocking on your door to commit to the following:

- 1. *An immediate cash injection to higher education to compensate for underfunding since the 2016 Cassells Report.
- 2. *A task force to tackle precarious work practices in higher education.
- 3. *Student to academic staff ratios in line with the OECD average.
- 4. *Protection of academic freedom and opposition to the drift to a 'business' model of higher education.
- 5. *Phase out student fees and address the student accommodation crisis.

Every night canvassing directors from each political party report in on the major issues from the doorsteps.

Make Higher Education a major issue!

Make IFUT's voice heard loud and clear!
